

Far Eastern University Dr. Nicanor Reyes Medical Foundation Institute of Medicine

Warm Greetings to the Officers, Members, and Friends of the FEUNRMF Medical Alumni Society,

It is with great honor and deep humility that I address
you as the newly appointed Dean of the FEU-NRMF
School of Medicine.

As an alumnus myself, I understand the deep connection we all share with our beloved alma mater. I am committed to strengthening that bond by working closely with the Alumni Society to support its mission—nurturing graduates who not only uphold the values of our institution but also inspire pride, unity, and a spirit of giving back among our community.

Since its founding in 1952, the FEU-NRMF School of Medicine has produced doctors whose integrity, resilience, compassion, and excellence have made a difference in countless lives. Through the years, our shared pursuit of excellence has led to significant achievements: top board exam performances, academic and research honors, and national and international accreditations—including ISO 9001:2015 certification, PAASCU (FAAP) Level III reaccreditation, and WFME membership. We are also proud contributors to the university's Autonomous Status granted by CHED and to global recognitions such as the WURI and Times Higher Education rankings.

Behind these accomplishments is a dedicated network of alumni who continue to uplift the institution through their support, collaboration, and mentorship. The impact of the FEUNRMF Medical Alumni Society in these efforts cannot be overstated. Your continued involvement strengthens the foundation of our academic community and inspires the next generation of physicians.

I look forward to working hand in hand with you to further elevate our School of Medicine, honor our proud legacy, and build a future that reflects the very best of who we are.

With heartfelt appreciation and warmest regards,

Pio T. Esguerra II, MD
(Class of 1996)
Dean, FEUNRMF-SOM
